District Court.

The second week of the district court convened at the court house
Monday morning and has spent a busy week.

The case of Mrs. Zula Archer et al.
vs. J. M. Finger, executor of the will of Mrs. A. K. Goza, on trial when we went to press last week, was concluded about 10 o'clock Saturday night, the jury returning a verdict in favor of defendants. Plaintiffs gave notice of application for a new trial.

The following were sworn in as jury-
men for the second week: Ben Koch,
Alf. Nester, Otto Koenig, Nic Fohn,
Leo Batot, W. F. Naegelin, O. A.
Grell, John Schorp, Robert Decker,
Frank Bohl, Adolph Tschirhart, R. J.
Zerr, Adolph Wurzbach, Wm. Lieber,
R. J. Reily, Albert Groff, John Biry,
E. J. Balmos, Jacob Rothe, August
Stiegler, A. E. Nester, Aug. Grimsinger,
Alfred Hutzler and C. W. Gilliam, the latter being summoned as a tales-
man.

The following business was disposed of up to Thursday evening:

State vs. Jesse Chambers, assault to murder; guilty, and punishment assessed at four years in the state penitentiary. (This case came here from Dimmit county on a change of venue.)
State vs. Fletcher Cravey, theft of a horse; not guilty.

State vs. F. A. Schott, using disloyal language; dismissed.

Alice Gardner vs. W. E. Gardner, divorce; granted, and plaintiff given custody of child.

Eliseo Valdez vs. Eolalia C. de Valdez, divorce; granted.

Josefa Baile de Santos vs. Apolonia
Santos, divorce; granted.

The case of Louis J. Schmidt vs.
E. W. Lacy et al., damages, was continued until next term of court.

For various reasons several cases on the criminal docket were continued until next term of court.

The grand jury adjourned for the term Friday evening of last week after returning but three indictments, showing that the county is practically free of crime.

The business of the court will probably be concluded by the middle of next week.

Foot Ball.

On Saturday, October 18th, the football squad of Hondo High School visited Pearshall. The boys started at 10 a. m.
and arrived at 6:10 that afternoon.
The mud, the cars and the load were the trouble. But when the whistle blew the Hondo boys forgot their misfortunes and rushed their opponents like mad.

The quarter ended 6-0 in Hondo's favor. The middle quarters were uneventful, neither side having the advantage. In the fourth quarter each side determined to win. Pearshall threatened the goal but their opponents held like a brick wall and drove the sand-lappers down the field yard
by yard.

The game ended with the Hondo boys on top, score 12-0. Although marred by fumbles the game was great and displayed the qualities of both teams. Guard Windrow on the defensive and Full-Back Carter on the offensive, stand for Hondo.

Thus, Hondo High, started on her athletic year in the old style, never to loose.

Bishop Visits Hondo.

Right Rev. Arthur J. Drossaerts,
D. D., Bishop of San Antonio came to Hondo last Saturday, being accompanied by Rev. J. Michel, O. M. I. of San Antonio Theological Seminary.

The Bishop preached, on Sunday morning and spoke of the principal duties of the Christian; he laid special stress upon the Home, the Church and Christian Education. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given after his address and there were no evening services at St. John's Church on that day.

Services were held at the Mexican Church by Rev. J. Michel, who had come for the purpose of assisting the Pastor Rev. F. Pallanche during the Bishop's visit. The latter spoke also to the Mexican congregation and in the afternoon confirmed a class of 118 children and 4 grown people. Owing to the lack of space in the church, the ceremony was performed outside in the open air.

Bishop Drossaerts and Father Michel returned to San Antonio on the evening train.

During this week a subscription is being taken for the purpose of erecting a Diocesan Seminary in San Antonio. It is hoped to collect $100,000 00
by the end of this month.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank those who gave us
such a nice and beautiful miscellaneous
"shower" this week. It was far more than we deserve. Words are inadequate to express our sincere thanks to one and all for this token of love and esteem. We will cherish this as one of the sweet recollections of life. We are only sorry that our services were not more fruitful. May the blessings of our Father be with you and all of the good people of Hondo for unselfishness shown to us.

J. W. LONG AND WIFE.

Rev. J. M. Alexander is Pastor.

Rev. J. M. Alexander was named as pastor of the Hondo Methodist Church for the ensuing conference year
by the annual conference held in Austin
last week. The reverend gentleman is well known here, having served this church some four years and is assured of a warm welcome on his return. He will conduct the services at both the morning and evening hour at the church tomorrow.

Rev. J. W. Long, who has acceptably served the Hondo church for the past four years, was sent to the Pear-shall church.

Lutheran Church.

As tomorrow morning at 1 o'clock all clocks will be set back one hour to get back to our old time measure, services at the Lutheran Church will begin at 10:30 a. m. THE PASTOR.

15th I will be taking a post graduate

RED CROSS DRIVE GAINS MOMENTUM

ACTIVITIES OF EACH DAY OF NOVEMBER CAMPAIGN
OUTLINED.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO AID

Also Women's Clubs, Municipal Employees, Labor Organizations and Business Men.

That added momentum is being given by the Third Red Cross Roll Call by the approach of the opening day of the campaign, November 2, is indicated by hundreds of preliminary reports reaching Southwestern Division headquarters in St. Louis from Red Cross Chapters in the five States — Missouri, Kansas, Texas,
Arkansas and Oklahoma — composing the division. The drive closes November 11.

An outline, giving in detail the Red Cross activities that will characterize each day of the 10-day campaign, recently has been made public. The opening day as been designated "Red Cross Sunday" and will be the occasion for sermons on the Red Cross
that will be preached in churches throughout the United States. Special programs are to be held at morning
or evening services.

On Monday, November 3, the Governor's proclamation in each State will be made public, mass meetings will begin and the first check of the progress of the campaign will be made at a workers' dinner in the evening.

"Municipal Employees Day" has been set for Tuesday, November 4.
On this day a proclamation from the Mayor of each city and town will be arranged for, while on the principal municipal building the Red Cross flag will be raised to be displayed throughout the remainder of the campaign.

Department store speeches will be made by "four-minute men" to be followed by lunch hour enrollment.

Wednesday, November 5, is to be
"Women's Day," on which special tribute is to be paid to the work which women are doing in the Red Cross.
Meetings of women's clubs, special exercises in Red Cross workrooms and Chapters will characterize the day, which also will mark the peak of the house-to-house canvass that is to be an additional feature of the campaign.

Homage to the support which the laboring man is giving to the Red Cross will be paid Thursday, November 6, which is "Employees' Day." Noon meetings will be held at factories and large industrial plants.

The school children of each city,
town and county will be the central figures on Friday, November 7, when special exercises in the schools will be held. The following day is special feature day for business and fraternal clubs. On the second Sunday of the campaign, November 9, patriotic sermons will be preached. November 10 is "Button Day," when all not wearing Red Cross buttons, will be solicited, while on Tuesday, November 11, the first anniversary of the Armistice, final reports will be made, and the campaign will close.

SOLDIERS TO DIRECT DRIVE

SAILORS, TOO, IN SOME CASES
WILL RUN CAMPAIGN.

Willingness of Returned Fighters to Direct Red Cross Roll Call Encouraging.

Returned soldiers and sailors in a large number of Red Cross Chapters of the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross—Missouri, Kansas, Texas,
Arkansas and Oklahoma—have accepted the directorship of the Third Red Cross Roll Call, Nov. 2 to 11, according to a recent announcement.

That this willingness not only to become members of the organization but to engage actively in the campaign to perpetuate the American Red Cross
for future work indicates the high regard in which service men hold the Red Cross, is the belief of Alfred Fair-
bank, Division Manager.

"The fact that the young men who have served their country so cour-ageously, and who have seen the Red Cross at work, are willing to assist actively in its continuance should appeal to every man, woman and child in the country.

TEACHERS WILL CANVASS

Dallas, Texas, Instructors Volunteer
As Red Cross Roll Call Workers.

School teachers of Dallas, Texas,
have volunteered their services as canvassers for the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11. They already have perfected an organization and plan to make a house-to-house
canvass on the second Sunday of Roll Call week in an effort to swell the total of Red Cross memberships for 1920.

"As we each intend to canvass in our own district," one teacher writes to Red Cross headquarters, "we expect to accomplish much by this unified action. Many teachers have mentioned that they had been unable to give as much time to war work as they wished and therefore desired now to aid the Red Cross in furthering its peace program.

BORN OF EMPRESS' DREAM

Persian Legend Concerning the Design and Construction of the Beautiful Taj Mahal.

A beautiful story, which is not generally known, of the creation of the Taj Mahal is hidden away in the pages of the Persian manuscripts. The emperor wished to commemorate his undying devotion and esteem for his beloved consort, but nothing satisfied his ambition, until one day Arjumanah told him that in a dream she had seen the noblest and most perfect of monuments, which if actualized, would be unparalleled in the whole world for its matchless beauty. The emperor sent for experts from all over the empire and commanded them to design the architecture of the dream. They labored to no effect; they could not visualize the dream. At last one day an old venerable Pir ascetic presented himself, who said: "I can help you to obtain what you seek."

He then presented a mysterious potion to one of the architects, before whose dazed eyes the lovely monument in all its glory was revealed. The magic of the potion lasted while he drew the plan in all its detail, then he fell back exhausted. The empress, seeing the design of her vision realized, was full of joy and the emperor at once set to work to have this edifice constructed. The impossibility of laying a firm foundation next presented itself. The swampy character of the banks of the silvery Jumna made it impossible to erect any construction that would stand, until, in another dream, it was revealed that the basis must be of silver. Today the Taj stands, like an ethereal drop of flawless pearl, on its foundation of solid silver—breathing forth the poetry of its conception:

"Sweeter to rest together dead, Far sweeter than to live asunder."
—Asla Magazine.

COURT AT LEAST CONSISTENT

Judge Remitted Fine When He Committed Indiscretion for Which He Punished Lawyer.

Our famous president, Abraham Lincoln, during his early career as a lawyer, traveled a circuit in Illinois. Judge David Davis and Lincoln were close friends, says the author of "Lincoln's Own Stories," and the judge always showed a keen appreciation of Lincoln's stories.

"I was never fined but once for contempt of court," said a man who was a clerk of court in Lincoln's day. "Davis fined me five dollars. Mr. Lincoln had just come in, and, leaning over my desk, had told me a story so irresistibly funny that I broke out in a loud laugh. The judge called me to order, saying—

"This must be stopped. Mr. Lincoln, you are constantly disturbing this court with your stories."

"Then he said to me:

"You may fine yourself five dollars."

"I apologized to the court, but told the judge that the story was worth the money. Shortly afterwards the judge called me to him.

"What was that story Lincoln told to you?" he asked.

"I told him, and he laughed aloud, in spite of himself.

"Remit your fine!" he ordered."

Skeletons of Extinct Bird.

Of the ten known existing skeletons of the great auk in the world, the United States is the only country possessing two. Greater Boston has these, one being in the museum of the Boston Society of Natural History and the other in the Harvard university museum.

The Boston museum contains also an egg of this extinct bird. In view of the fact that a single egg has brought as high as $535, this is considered a most valuable relic.

This flightless sea-bird formerly was distributed along the northern coasts and islands of North America. In its coat of sober coloring with a vest of snowy white it resembled nothing so much as a short man in evening dress. Since it was flightless, the bird was easily exterminated, the natives relishing it as a food. It probably was wholly exterminated by 1844.

Havana's High-Sounding Name.

The full name of the capital of Cuba is San Christobal de la Habana. In 1834 a royal decree conferred upon the city the sounding title, "Ciudad del Nuevo Mundo y Antemural de las Indias Occidentales," which signifies "Key of the New World and Bulwark of the West Indies." In emphasis, the coat-of-arms of the municipality bears a symbolic key and representations of the fortresses of Morro, Punta and Fuerza.

In 1650 the city rose to be the commercial center of the Spanish-American possessions, and the principal rendezvous of the royal fleets that carried on the trade monopoly between Spain and America.

First Malleable Platinum.

The first veritable platinum ingot was made by a French chemist, Cabaneau, in 1783. Charles III of Spain had called him to Madrid and created a special chair of mineralogy, physics and chemistry for him. In his laboratory he found the secret of rendering the new metal malleable, and this is the way he revealed the fact to one of his patrons: "Three months later, at the home of the Count of Aranda, there appeared upon a table an ingot some 10 centimeters cube (about four inches), with a beautiful metallic luster; it was malleable platinum."—New York Herald.

DIES IF AFFECTION WANES

Pet Wife of Congo Chief Put to Death
When Fickle Lord Tires of Her Charms.

An African chief may possess 1,000 wives, but the chief who has two pet wives at the same time or keeps any two wives in the same house is yet to be found.

To be the pet wife of the chief, to know that one is pointed out by the entire village as a beauty and the honored one, sounds rather alluring, but to know that one may lose one's head when a more attractive successor appears is sufficient cause for hesitation on the part of the bride when the chief comes a-wooing.

Jewelry that is worn by the pet of a Congo chief is interesting. A necklace of beaten and carved brass, perhaps two and one-half inches thick, eight inches in diameter and weighing 28 pounds, is shaped like the letter C. After this ornament is placed about the neck of the chief's pet she lies down with her head on a rock and the ends are closed with heavy hammers. Heavy anklets and bracelets accompany the necklace, so that she daily carries about with her from 35 to 50 pounds of jewelry.

As she walks about the village she is the center of attraction. She may hold this enviable position for five or six years, or at least until the chief may choose another beauty. When ever this occurs her doom is sealed. Off comes her head for the purpose of removing the necklace, and next the arms and legs that the bracelets and anklets may grace the fair successor.

Neuralgia of the face, shoulder, hands, or feet requires a powerful remedy that will penetrate the flesh. BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT possesses that power. Rubbed in where the pain is felt is all that is necessary to relieve suffering and restore normal conditions. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Married by Order.

A document suggesting that the holders of certain lands in Scotland are bound under heavy monetary penalties to marry at the royal pleasure has been brought to light during a Scottish appeal case in the house of lords. The document is said to have been prepared by the king and queen of Scotland in 1553, and it refers to a tenure known as a "ward." The heir or possessors of land held in this manner cannot obtain possession until they are twenty-one years of age if males and fourteen years of age if females. If such heirs on taking possession are not married they are bound to marry at the pleasure and will of the king with persons of good reputation and similar rank. The penalty payable to the king for refusing such a proposed marriage is double the pecuniary benefit of the marriage. "Which marriage," adds the order, "is esteemed much too dear in this country and almost at the value of the lands."

SURGEONS agree that in cases of cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the FIRST TREATMENT is most important. When an EFFICIENT antiseptic is applied promptly, there is no danger of infection and the wound begins to heal at once. For use on man, beast, BOROZONE is the IDEAL ANTISEPTIC and HEALING AGENT. Buy it now and be ready for an emergency. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Petroleum in Mexican Lake.

For hundreds of years Mexican Indians had a horror of what they called the pest spot of Lake Chapala, near the shore at Tizapan. They would not bathe in it or sail around it, declaring that the water was oily. Then, after a time, they cautiously began to paint wooden boats with this oil, which proved so effective in keeping out the water that it became the general custom to use it. They did not know that this was petroleum gushing up through the water—a magnificent flow, about two miles out in the lake, which to this day gushes apparently without varying. When the water is low petroleum floats in solid masses, each large globe weighing about 22 pounds.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHLORIDE given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

They need a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test.

A remedy especially for kidney ailments.

Can any Hondo reader doubt this statement?

W. A. Mask, engineer, Hondo, says: "About six months ago I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be an A-1 remedy for kidney trouble. My back was sore and my kidneys acted irregularly. I felt tired, worn out and had no ambition to do anything. I had a dull pain in my kidneys day and night. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and thought I would try them. One box of Doan's cured my back and I have had no trouble with my kidneys since."

Peach Ice Cream.

This is a most delicious cream, made from very ripe fruit: Peel, mash and put through a sieve using a pint of pulp, or less will flavor a quart of cream, adding sugar sirup to sweeten and a little lemon juice to accent the peach flavor. Almond extract is often used and well liked in peach ice cream, but with nicely flavored fruit it is not needed.

Apricot Ice Cream.

Drain a can of apricots, force through a strainer. To the apricot juice add one and one-half cupsful of orange juice, a few grains of salt and a cupful of sugar, then add the apricot paste and freeze.

When your food does not digest well and you feel "blue," tired and discouraged, you should use a little HERBINE at bedtime. It opens the bowels purifies the system and restores a fine feeling of health and energy. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Water and the Human Body.

The specific gravity of water and the human body is virtually the same. A body in the water is supported by equal pressure at all points. It is more likely to be at ease than under other circumstances. It is, therefore, more likely that it may move without pain. So cripples are often given their exercise in the water.

Mrs. Parker Feared End Was Near
But Takes Tanlac and Health
Is Restored.

"I actually believe Tanlac saved my life, for it pulled me up when I was nearly past going," said Mrs. Laura Parks, of 1432 N. Calhoun street, Fort Worth, Tex.

"My condition was such," she continued, "that everything I would eat caused gas to rise and press on my heart till I thought I would smother to death. After eating I would become nauseated and would get so dizzy I was afraid of falling; my limbs would become numb, then again they would tingle all over like thousands of needles sticking in me. I was so nervous that I could hardly sleep, had sick headaches most all the time and was so miserable and despondent I feared my end was near."

"Soon after taking Tanlac my appetite picked up, my digestion improved and I got to eating everything I wanted. I am now strong enough to do all my housework and more; all my troubles are over. I sleep like a child and my husband tells me I am the very picture of health."

Hiding a King's Statue.

The fine equestrian statue of King Charles I, which was hidden in London for protection during the war, has been brought to light again. The statue, which was cast during the reign of the monarch, according to reports has not enjoyed the uneventful career permitted to most works of its kind. It was executed for Sir Richard Weston, afterward earl of Portland, who intended to place it as an ornament in his garden at Richmond. But this function it never fulfilled, for it was seized by parliament during the Civil war and sold to one John Rivett, a brazer, to be broken up. John, however, being a royalist, hid the statue, and, by selling hundreds of bronze knife handles purporting to be made from it, disarmed any parliamentary suspicions in the matter. On the restoration of Charles II in 1689 Rivett produced the statue, which was claimed by Sir Richard's son. The brazer refused to yield it, and after years of dispute it was eventually presented to King Charles II and erected on the spot formerly covered by the original Charing cross.

CATHOLIC DRIVE FOR SEMINARY FUND.

Campaign Will Open October 26th. Only Catholics Will Be Asked To Subscribe.

A Catholic campaign, to raise funds for the building of a Theological Seminary in the city of San Antonio, will be inaugurated on Sunday, October 26, in every parish of the diocese, and continue for one week. The goal for the drive is $100,000. Every parish in city and country has been thoroughly organized; soliciting committees have been appointed, and everything is in readiness for the beginning of the work on the morning of the date mentioned. The work has been so systematized, and the burden so distributed among the Catholic population, that all will have an opportunity to contribute, and none will be overtaxed.

Committees have been positively instructed not to solicit from non-Catholics, as the money is to be devoted to a purely Catholic purpose—the building of a seminary for the training of young men for the priesthood. Catholics know well the importance of this work. The Church is striving to build up in Texas a native priesthood to minister to the spiritual wants of Texas Catholics. Every member of the Church, young and old, is expected to do his or her part in the coming campaign, by contributing, each according to his means and capacity to the success of this drive.

Every Catholic who reads this is asked to put himself, or herself, in communication with the local pastor and the committee in charge of the drive in his parish.

Remember—the drive begins on October 26th.

Rural Life Tendencies.

By Fletcher Davis.

(In The Southland Farmer, Oct. 1, 1919)

A study of rural life in its various phases—rural sociology the college men would call it—discloses some startling tendencies of the times.

That is, the tendencies are startling if we are to heed the lessons of history and regard the future welfare of our country and its people.

In 1850, the urban population of the United States owned 41 per cent of the total wealth of the country as against 56 per cent held by the rural population.

The census decades of 1860, 1870 and 1880 show a steady increase in the relative amount of wealth held by our urban population and a corresponding decline in the amount held by our rural people.

In 1890 our urban population constituted 43.6 per cent of our population and held 75 per cent of our total wealth while the rural population constituted 56.4 per cent and held only 25 per cent of the wealth.

The figures for 1900 show 76 per cent of the wealth controlled by an urban population of 48.7 per cent while a rural population of 51.3 per cent controlled only 24 per cent of the wealth.

These two decades were marked, as were the two just preceding, by low price levels for farm products.

An era of better prices was ushered in in 1900 and this probably accounts for the tendency towards improvement shown by the figures for 1910, in the relative proportions of wealth held; but even then, 55.2 per cent of the people, constituting that portion of our population residing in incorporated towns and cities owned 66 per cent of the total wealth of the country, whereas a rural population of 44.8 per cent of the whole population controlled only 33 per cent of the total wealth.

It will be readily seen by the above that for the past 60 or 70 years there has been a very pronounced drift from the country to the city.

This drift has the effect of increasing the number of food consumers in relative proportion to the number of food producers on the farm, and unquestionably accounts for the era of higher price levels for farm products noted above and is the chief contributing cause for the present cry over the "high cost of living."

A striking feature of the above figures is the fact that the drift from the open country to the urban centers attained its highest percentage during the period of better prices and an increase in rural wealth.

A study of tenantry at the same time shows that it has its most rapid increase in the more prosperous sections of the country.

This probably has its explanation in the tendency of the well-to-do farmer to fall in with the spirit of the times and plunge into the extravagance of "high living."

How long such tendencies can continue unabated and a safe equilibrium between productive supply and necessary consumptive demand be maintained remains to be demonstrated.

Certainly true it is that modern tenantry is hastening the culmination of whatever evil effects are to follow these tendencies.

According to the census of 1910, there was during the period of 1900-1910, an increase of 10.9 per cent in the number of farms in the United States; but during the same period the number of farm owners increased only 8.1 per cent while tenant farmers increased 16.3 per cent.

The last census report says that "at least since 1880 (and probably further back also) the farms operated by tenants have in each decade increased faster than those operated by owners. Tenant farms constituted 25.6 per cent of all farms in 1880; 28.4 per cent in 1890; 35.3 per cent in 1900; and 37 per cent in 1910."

"This increase" (in tenantry,) says Paul L. Vogt in his Introduction to Rural Sociology, "is occurring in a section of the country already fairly well established in its agricultural methods; and represents the coming of a permanent tenantry and absentee landlords in the richest and most productive agricultural section of the Union."

Investigations so far as made indicate that "the average age of the tenant class is rising and that from year to year fewer men are crossing the border from tenantry to ownership," and "in sections where land values have increased rapidly the percentage of tenantry is correspondingly high."

"Dairying, particularly in a section where dairying is the principal industry; truck production in the environment of the large cities; general farming; and the production of grain in the regions where extensive farming is carried on, all show a tendency toward increase in tenantry."

To quote further from our author, the economic effects of tenantry are:

"(1) The depreciation of the soil.
"(2) The adoption of systems of farm management most immediately productive of returns regardless of the ultimate effect on the farm.

"(3) The ultimate prevention of any marked increase in rural prosperity because of rise in rents.

"(4) The depreciation of present owners' houses and farm equipment and the substitution of inferior houses suitable for tenants but not such as would be demanded by an owner.

"(5) Lack of interest on the part of either the tenant or the owner in projects of community material improvement.

"All these economic effects must reflect themselves ultimately on the social life of the people because they will result in a differentiation of population bringing into the country a type satisfied with tenant houses and tenant conditions, less interested in social progress and making the rural problem more serious than it has yet been."

These effects have already manifested themselves in the following:

"1. A lowering standard of living as indicated by a smaller proportion of tenants compared with owners subscribing to agricultural journals and other periodicals.

"2. A lower educational efficiency as shown by the smaller number of tenants and their children completing the elementary schools. This lower standard of education is probably due to the handicap of frequent changes of residence and of schools and to the greater poverty of the tenant class.

"3. A lowering of religious efficiency as shown by the smaller proportion of tenants belonging to church or attending church services.

"4. A lessening of other rural organization efficiency because of the greater difficulty of organizing a transient class.

"5. A possibility of ultimately developing the social conventions that the open country is only fit as a place of residence for tenants and for those who are unable to support themselves in the villages or the cities on the rental of their country property.

"6. Social disintegration based on class consciousness as between owners and tenants."

These effects are such as to arrest the attention of all who are interested in the future welfare of our country.

Many remedies might be suggested, and each one might be helpful in a degree, but no one alone can ever prove a panacea.

Says Cancer Was Cured in Six Weeks.

Justice of Peace at Brownsville, Texas, Receives Successful Treatment From Famous Cancer Specialist.

Valentin Gavito, Justice of Peace, Brownsville, Texas, after going to several doctors for relief of cancer on his nose, was advised to see Dr. O. A. Johnson, famous cancer specialist at Kansas City, Mo. He writes:

"About this time, a friend of mine recommended to me, Dr. O. A. Johnson, of Kansas City, Mo., as a specialist to cure cancer. On the 10 of October, 1914, I went to Kansas City, to see Dr. Johnson. On October 12th, 1914, I commenced to take Dr. Johnson's treatment, and in six weeks, I was discharged as cured by him. Since that time, to the present day, there are no signs of the cancer returning. My present general health is excellent. When I went to Kansas City to see Dr. Johnson on October 10th 1914, my weight was 165 lbs. To-day, my weight is 188 lbs.—good gaining in weight for an old man of 68 years."

Dr. Johnson has published a remarkable book called "Cancer Truths," being a statement of his theories and experiences in treating cancer without the knife. Purely medicinal measures only are employed; that is, external applications to destroy the cancer and internal medication to purify the blood. This book will be sent gladly to any cancer sufferer, or if you have a friend suffering from that dread disease, write for it to-day. Simply address Dr. O. A. Johnson, Suite 560, 1324 Main St., Kansas City, Mo.
